

FARM

CASE STUDY: Farm, London

Bridgerton, It's a Sin, The Serpent and Spitting Image would seem to have little in common other than their immense success on UK TV, however there is another common factor, post production has been carried out on all of these programmes by Farm.

With six sites housing various specialist facilities, Farm is the largest post-production company in the UK.

For more than 10 years MBM Omega has supplied most of Farm's London office supplies and stationery requirements from notebooks and pens to paper and office furniture. Facilities manager CJ Murphy also calls on the MBM Omega team to source specialist products because he knows he can rely on them to be very responsive and efficient and that delivery will be timely.

He says: "Whatever requests we have, MBM Omega get back to us really quickly and try their best to obtain what we need at the quality and price required."

Although MBM Omega offers a comprehensive online ordering system, CJ prefers to maintain his own in-house stock system for Farm's monitoring and reporting purposes.

He continues: "I use MBM Omega's online checker to find out what products are available and the current stock levels, but then order via email and update our in-house system. They are happy to work in whatever way suits us best. Their people are really great and make working with them an absolute pleasure."

The new Farm building in London is the biggest and most technically advanced long-form picture and sound post facility in the UK. Its facilities cover seven floors and include full UHD, Dolby Vision and Dolby Atmos provision, dedicated production desk space, roof terraces and bar areas.

Farm's William site is home to its scripted team who manage the full range of picture and audio services for high-end international drama. And its Uncle building, so named because it originally launched opposite the BBC (Auntie) in Wood Lane, is a full-service audio and picture facility that handles much of the UK's best loved comedy and light entertainment shows. Finally, The Mezz caters for all UKTV Creative's short form needs.

"I use MBM Omega's online checker to find out what products are available and the current stock levels, but then order via email and update our in-house system. They are happy to work in whatever way suits us best. Their people are really great and make working with them an absolute pleasure."
